

Ubuntu Mission

Ubuntu is more than a philosophy. It's a process that speaks to the heart of identity: I am a person through others. Through others... What a concept.

While many look at the situation in South Africa as a crisis, we see it as an opportunity. The rippling effects of the AIDS epidemic are leaving a national "skills gap" in its wake. The Ubuntu Mission is focused on helping local leaders bridge this skills gap with:

- ❖ Leadership Skills Mentoring
- ❖ Business Skills Development
- ❖ Business Consulting
- ❖ Church Discipleship

The programs delivered by the Ubuntu Mission leverage the power of human connection to create a culturally relevant, locally sustainable, and personally inspiring program of economic change.

We teach Christian values and business principles to local leaders and young adults – to show the reality of God's presence in every day life. An Ubuntu Mission workshop includes many case studies, opportunity for group work, vibrant discussions, and the real-world application of ideas.

Valued at over $1,000.00 (USD) per participant, special support is enabling the program to be offered at 250.00 ZAR.

Running Sept. 29 - Oct. 3, the fee covers:

- Professional instruction
- All meals
- Lodging at the SACRP conference center
- One to one consulting and coaching

Ubuntu Mission:
Red Program

2008

Designed specifically for leaders, the 5-day workshop includes:

- ◆ Culture and Business
 - ▶ includes identifying cultural strengths, blending culture into business, and valuing diversity
- ◆ Business Operating Principles
 - ▶ an introduction to business finance, planning, marketing, and selling
- ◆ Business Leadership
 - ▶ developing personal credibility, developing others, and developing groups
- ◆ Business Relationships
 - ▶ building professional relationships, establishing a network of healthy relationships, and creating influence
- ◆ Biblical Foundations
 - ▶ putting Christ at the center of culture, business, leadership, and relationships